

Studies of spectral stability of nonlinear waves via the Evans function technique

Sergii Skurativskyi

Institute of Geophysics, NAS of Ukraine, Kyiv

Abstract. The presentation deals with the problem of investigating the nonlinear waves' stability. The main definitions and approaches to the spectral stability examining are discussed. Several analytical and numerical examples of spectral stability studies with the help of Evans function technique are provided.